Welcome! I am looking forward to a great year teaching you mathematical concepts while also practicing our literacy skills (reading, writing, speaking, listening, and thinking). In this class, you will be expected to show up, participate, reflect, communicate, and learn through whole group, partner, and individual work.

Homework: Homework assignments will be given once a week. These assignments will be mostly online via the McGraw Hill website. Homework is used for practice, not an instrument to measure understanding.

Class Work: Class work will be given daily, and will be graded on completion. During class is when it is a good idea to ask questions if you do not understand a concept. I care about you, and I want you to succeed! Therefore, class work is there as practice, and you should leave this room learning something new every day!

Routine: Every day, you will come into the class and grab your folder, notebook, and text book. You will then answer the Do Now question. After 5 or so minutes, Mrs. Maynard will greet everyone, and we will get started with class. PLEASE MAKE SURE TO COME PREPARED WITH A PENCIL EVERY DAY!!!
